DETAILED ACTION

Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 1 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 recites "wherein depressurization of the hollow body results in approximately linear deflection of the compression member" in the final paragraph. The disclosure does not define the intended meaning of "approximately linear deflection", which renders the claim unclear. It appears from Applicant's remarks (page 9 of the response filed 10/28/2008) that the meaning pertains to a lack of bending of the compression member due to a rigid compression member (this limitation is not claimed). Under this interpretation, claims 3, 7, and 13 are also indefinite for reciting limitations directed toward a conflicting embodiment. Claim 3 recites "the compression member comprises a flexible, flexurally elastic material and is bent under loading of the node" in the final paragraph; Claim 7 recites "the compression member comprises a flexurally elastic material" in the second paragraph; and Claim 13 is directed toward the application of the actuator in a "pneumatically driven belt server" (Figs. 9 and 10), which is shown to have the compression member comprise a flexurally elastic material.

Claims 2, 4-6, and 8-12 are rejected due to their dependence from claim 1.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 and 5-13, as far as they are definite, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Danna et al (5018506).

Danna et al discloses a pneumatic actuator having an airtight elongated hollow body (13 etc.), at least one compression member (20 etc.), at least one pair of tension elements (14 etc.) laid helically in an opposite sense of rotation, wherein a first end of the actuator is connected to a reference system (12) and a second end of the actuator can perform a movement and/or exert a force relative to the reference system. Wherein the actuator is capable of being reset into the deactivated position by a spring element (20), and the actuator has a second hollow body (513B, Fig. 11) and at least one further pair of tension elements (514B, Fig. 11). The actuator is capable of use as a damping spring element, a gripping device when paired with at least one other actuator, a cantilever with constant pressurization of the hollow body, and in a pneumatically driven belt server.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2-4 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
